Monthly Commentary

Performance

This month, the total return for TB SGIG was +0.4%, compared to +1.9% for the IA Global Equity Income sector. The fund's current bias towards Europe proved detrimental to performance against the peer group. TB SGIG has delivered a total return of +56.9% over the last five years and +108% since inception. The fund is ranked in the first quartile since launch in June 2011.

FX

Currency movements during the month had a positive impact on the fund's absolute performance as Sterling weakened against most major currencies except the Euro. Sterling was down 2.9% and 3.2% against the USD and the CHF respectively but gained 0.6% against the EUR.

Positives

May marked the end of the Q1 2018 reporting season for many of our companies. BP (+8%) reported strong results and signalled a potential dividend increase later this year if oil prices remain resilient. Both Merck (+4%) and Novo Nordisk (+5%) reported better than expected results. Technology remains a key market theme and our holdings in Intel (+9%) and Microsoft (+6%) both performed strongly. SES (+11%) shares continued to rebound from recent lows.

Negatives

Pandora shares (-27%) reacted very negatively to an in-line trading update and re-iteration of full year guidance. The sudden slowdown in China where growth slowed from +62% to +16% quarter on quarter caused investors to question the longer-term growth potential of the business. The current 9X PER rating is at odds with a business which should be able to grow its sales by mid-single digits and maintain its current margin profile. ProSieben (-10%) shares fell after stating that its guidance would be very back end loaded this year. Deutsche Post (-6%) shares were weak after encountering short-term labour issues in its Post division.

Portfolio Activity

There were no outright purchases or sales during the month. We topped up Heidelberg Cement, Roche and Svenska Handelsbanken and took profits in Anta Sports and AstraZeneca.
